As we come to the end of what was an amazing year for us all...

The next 3 weeks

Wow... can you believe that this is the final month of preschool for your little one? Although saddened that your kiddos will be leaving us here in a few weeks, we are so excited for the adventures that await them in young fives or kindergarten next year. We know that your child will find so much happiness and success with his/her next school experience! As for our time here at Mayflower, things are definitely winding down. The month of May will bring with it our special Mother's Day Tea on the 8th, so please make sure that date is marked down and highlighted in your calendars! The kids are so excited to have you in the classroom with them! You won't want to forget your cameras!

Also, if you have yet to have one of us complete the teacher portion of your child's or Kindergarten registration form for next year, please be sure to get that to us ASAP.

After our 'Chicka Chicka week' where letters and numbers will be reviewed, we will enjoy our Mother's Day unit and learning about zoo animals. The last day of school will include some of 'our favorite things' from the year and will end with you joining us on the playground for a special goodbye.

Mother's Day Tea

The kids had their fun night with all of our Dads back in March, so the time has come for them to have fun with our Moms!! Please join us for our Mother's Day Tea on Wednesday, May 8th at 9:00 a.m. for a special morning spent with your little one in the classroom. We will have a couple of songs to perform for you and then your little one will serve you a yummy treat to enjoy while you open a very special gift. © If you can't make it on Wednesday morning, please send a grandma, an aunt or close family friend to take your place!

Monthly Character Trait

This month we will review all of the character traits that were introduced throughout the year in our classroom. We hope that we have helped your child better understand each of these traits and that the role playing that we have done together has helped him/her see the importance of each and every one of them. To help you remember those that we have discussed: responsibility, sharing, thankfulness, giving, patience, kindness, honesty and respect. Please remember that these traits will not be learned overnight... it will take a lifetime of learning & much practice- and then some!!

May Snack Schedule!

Please refer to the snack schedule☺

Student Reminders:

- Start thinking of your most favorite activities that we did this year and we will re-visit them that last week of school!!

Parent Reminders:

A few things to keep in mind for the month:

- As school comes to an end, it is easy to slip out of routines and schedules...believe us, as parents, we get it! However, we will ask that you try and stick to at least one routine this spring/summer and that is to read to your child every day for at least 10-15 minutes. This time with your child is so important and will make a world of difference as (s)he enters Y5s or Kindergarten next year.

A Final Thank You!

Wow... where do we even begin? We are already tearing up here and we are only on our second line!! We can't thank you enough for helping to make this year such a memorable one for the two of us. Each and every one of you has been so supportive of us throughout the year and has helped make this year one that we will never forget. Although there are hundreds of reasons for us to thank you over and over again, our most heartfelt thanks to you needs to be this... thank you for giving us the opportunity to teach your child. Thank you for letting us into his/her little life, for sharing with us the sweet and special person that is growing within each and every one of them and thank you for sharing with us all of his/her laughter, stories and hugs. What a gift you have given us!! We look forward to not only hearing from you, but seeing you next year as well (you better pop in our classroom from time to time!)... you won't be able to escape that easily! ☺ Have a wonderful summer and best wishes to you all!
